

Edward Posey

Edward Posey has a Latin American background with parents from Nicaragua and Panama. He is currently finishing up his History degree at the University of Florida. With a heavy course load in a three year period, he has been able to be involved with many service projects in the community. Dance Marathon an annual event that has raised over 12 million dollars in over a decade is the largest run student philanthropy in the Southeastern United States. Edward has been involved in the organization for three years and has held leadership positions in the organization for the last two years. Edward has also been involved with fraternity Lambda Chi Alpha a service based fraternity.

Splitting his time between Gainesville and Miami has been difficult for the last several years, but nonetheless Edward has still found time to involve himself with the Miami fashion scene. He has worked vigorously at Furla Coral Gables an Italian based designer handbag line. There he has worked to strengthen the brand recognition in the area as well as move massive quantities of merchandise. He is currently looking to get involved in Jackson Memorial Foundation fundraisers and Miami Children Museum fundraisers. Edward is fluent in both English and Spanish and greatly enjoys the Miami area for its culture and climate.
